II. What makes us... us

1. Humans

1. a) The best thing you will ever do for your family / one-of-a-kind / It's very nice to meet you / I have good news, upgrade / we don't need one, you're taking it back / Please I need him / we don't know anything about it / It's a machine / gadgets / they are more than that / I'm watching you. / I'm watching you too Laura, you're right in front of me.

b) It tells the story of an alternate present where androids that live with people to help them do the things they don't have the time to do. It shows a family in which the dad decides to get an android but the mum doesn't want it because she doesn't like them. The dad wants to keep it. We see that the android are very capable but are possibly capable of doing bad things.

2. a) - part 1: acquisition of an android
- part 2: some androids don't work well
- part 3: the situation becomes dangerous

b) Chaque bande-annonce pourra faire l'objet d'une réponse relativement similaire.

At the beginning of the trailer, everything seems fine. People look happy and the atmosphere is peaceful.

Then, we start to see the problems with that world and how something is wrong. After that, the situation escalates to violence and the situation becomes threatening. The music helps us identify the threatening atmosphere.

2. Maniac

1. a) Do you know where you are right now? / I'm sick / It's not therapy, it's science. / the structure of the mind / Pain can be destroyed / That doesn't sound stupid to me. / Okay people let's begin. in 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 / This is multi reality brain magic shit. / I don't know what's real and what's not. / You are not protecting those people in there.

b) It tells the story of a man and a woman who participate in experiment. They are hooked to a machine that is supposed to work on their minds. They go to different realities, some look possible, some look fantastic.

It seems there's a problem with the trial because the man and woman always find themselves in these worlds and they're not supposed to.

2. a) - part 1: interviews
- part 2: distorted vision of things
- part 3: the different realities of the trial

Group 1: Humans

1 a. World, real, online, choice, science, mind, fix, need, machine, house, gadgets, watching, scared, uncomfortable.

b. “Scared” and “uncomfortable”, because on the poster it seems that the family at the front is unaware that the android is observing them. The android looks like it's planning something.

2. a.

The working mother	The father	Dr. Millican
She is wary of the android, she doesn't want one.	The father, on the contrary, wants one to help with everyday chores.	Dr. Millican wants to keep the one he has because he needs the android to play the part of a son for him.

b. “I'm watching you too Laura, you're right in front of me” : that sentence may mean two things: either the android is talking literally and states that it is watching Laura at that very moment or the android uses “watching” in the sense that it's surveilling Laura.

c. The laughter at the end makes us feel uncomfortable because it sounds mechanical, and not natural. It seems that the android was programmed to laugh and reminds us that it really isn't human at all.

3. This text is an extract from a novel written in 1932 by Aldous Huxley.

It deals with human cloning hanks to something called the Bokanovsky's Process. It gives us the impression that nature no longer has a role to play in reproduction and that babies are being engineered to answer the society's demands.

This text shows that Brave New World is worried about a future where science and technology will overrule nature and control human beings.

Group 2: Maniac

1. a. World, real, online, choice, sick, therapy, science, mind, multi-reality, machine, house, watching, puzzled

2. a. The scene takes place in the future in an experimental laboratory, probably in the U.S.
